LAB

Micronutrient Test

What are micronutrients?

Micronutrients are the vitamins and minerals that are essential for healthy living. While organic, most vitamins are not produced by the body, and must be gained by a nutritious, balanced diet. Minerals, meanwhile, are inorganic, and must be gained through diet and supplements alone.

Why test for them?

Vitamins A through K, antioxidants, major minerals and trace elements regulate growth, development and metabolism, and as such are vital for staying healthy and young. But with hectic schedules, we often eat an unbalanced diet without even realising. Deficiencies can lead to low energy levels, poor immunity, brain fog, signs of ageing and even serious illness.

How does the test work?

At VIVID, we take a tiny amount of blood and test for important vitamins and minerals at our quality-certified lab. A doctor will then present your results, along with recommendations for lifestyle and diet changes and ideal IV infusions to address your specific needs.

THB 14,900

Heavy Metal Toxicity Test

What are heavy metals?

While some heavy metals are essential for health (zinc, iron), others (lead, mercury, arsenic) have a negative effect and can even be fatal at high levels. Yet heavy metals regularly enter the body through the contaminated air we breathe, water we drink and food we eat.

Why test for them?

Even at lower levels, heavy metal toxicity can lead to headaches, nausea and pain. And as time progresses and levels in the body accumulate, heavy metals can even cause cancer, nervous system damage and developmental risks in utero.

How does the test work?

A urine sample is screened at the VIVID lab for nine main heavy metals, as well as indicators of organ function. For those with high levels of toxicity, we recommend a course of EDTA chelation drips spread over a few weeks to completely detox the body.

THB 5,000

Food Intolerance Test

Why test for food intolerance?

Food intolerance is associated with bloating, indigestion, skin allergies and a variety of chronic conditions. Although 45% of the population is estimated to suffer from some form of food intolerance, it is hard to isolate which foods are responsible for which symptoms.

How does the test work?

Our IgG antibody test uses a small blood sample which is taken at the clinic and sent to the lab to screen 222 panels. Results are returned within seven days, and a nutritionist will go through the results with you and suggest sustainable dietary changes. Benefit from increased levels of energy, as well as better weight management, sleep, immunity and overall wellbeing.
